

ANGLO-SAXONS homework project

These are just some ideas that you could include in your project. Don't feel that you have to do all (or any!) of these activities and feel free to come up with your own ideas and research any areas of The Anglo-Saxons. Homework projects can be presented however you like - Homework books, PowerPoints or something creative. This project should be worked on 'little and often', so aim to complete one element of your project each week across the term.

Please hand completed projects in on Wednesday 22nd May, when you will have the opportunity to share your work.
