Equality and Inclusion Statement

We have developed an example Equality, Diversity and Inclusion statement which outlines our school's intent on how it will meet the duties of the Equality Act 2010. 2) Information gathering and Objective Setting The second part of the toolkit is an example of how a school could collect equalities information, analyse that information and then set SMART objectives. 3) Equality audit tool This will enable school to evaluate all of its systems and processes to identify any gaps regarding equalities that could be addressed.

The school is committed to equality and valuing diversity and actively supports practices that promote genuine equality of opportunity for all staff and young people.

For further information on types of unlawful discrimination see Appendix 1.

4. Roles and responsibilities

The designated senior member of staff with overall responsibility for all equality and diversity matters at Emersons Green Primary School is the Headteacher. For further information on the roles and responsibilities of the Designated Person see Appendix 2.

It is the responsibility of all staff to:

- Treat colleagues, young people and visitors with dignity and respect; and avoid behaving in any manner that may give rise to claims of discrimination, harassment or victimisation;
- Support and participate in any measures introduced to promote equality and diversity;
- Actively challenge discrimination and disadvantage in accordance with their responsibilities;
- Report any issues associated with equality and diversity in accordance with this policy.

It is important to appreciate that an employee is personally responsible for their own acts of discrimination, harassment or victimisation carried out during their employment, whether or not the employer is also liable. Any attempt to instruct, cause or induce another person to discriminate, harass or victimise a third person will also amount to unlawful discrimination and any employee doing so will be subject to disciplinary action.

5. Duty to make reasonable adjustments

We will actively seek to make reasonable adjustments, where there is a need to ensure that a disabled person has the same access to everything as a non-disabled person, as far as is reasonable. We will take positive and proactive steps to remove, reduce or prevent the obstacles faced by a disabled individual, as far as is reasonable. For further information, visit the Equality and Human Rights Commission website at: www.equalityhumanrights.com

6. Admissions policy

Our admissions criteria are defined under the admissions policy and are applied consistently to every young person, irrespective of any protected characteristic.

7. Curriculum delivery

The curriculum is crucial to tackling inequalities for pupils including gender stereotyping, preventing bullying and raising attainment for certain groups. The principles of equality and diversity are embedded in our academic and social curriculum. Positive and proactive steps will be taken to prevent discrimination against, or victimisation of, any young person in the provision of education or access to any benefit, facility or service including educational trips, work experience and leisure activities.

8. Exclusion policy

The decision to exclude a child for a fixed period or permanently is a last resort. Our exclusion criteria are defined under the exclusion policy and are applied consistently to every young person, irrespective of any protected characteristic.

9. Recruitment and selection

All employees, whether part-time, full-time, temporary or permanent will be treated fairly and equally. We will avoid unlawful discrimination in all aspects of employment including recruitment, promotion, opportunities for training, pay and benefits, discipline and selection for redundancy. Selections will be made on the basis of aptitude, ability and/or merit, where appropriate.

Where appropriate, Emersons Green School will endeavour to make all reasonable and effective adjustments during the recruitment and selection process. Where recruitment and selection is carried out by a third party, on behalf of Emersons Green Primary School, we will take all reasonable steps to ensure they adhere to the principles of this policy.

10. Reporting and recording incidents of discrimination and harassment

All incidents of discriminatory treatment, bullying and harassment must be reported to senior staff and recorded as soon as is reasonably possible (and in any event within 24 hours of the incident). All bullying-related incidents (confirmed or otherwise), will be addressed in accordance with our Anti-Bullying Policy.

11. Complaints and grievances

If an individual believes that they have been discriminated against, harassed or victimised, they are asked to follow our complaints or grievance procedure.

12. Implementation, monitoring, evaluation and review

The designated senior member of staff with overall responsibility for the implementation, monitoring and evaluation of the 'Equality and Diversity Policy' is the Headteacher. The designated member of staff is also responsible for ensuring that all young people, staff, parents/carers and placing local authorities are aware of our policy. Additional support would also be provided to any parent or significant person, wishing to know more about the policy and procedures outlined above.

A copy of this policy document is available for inspection on the premises during office hours and an electronic copy is posted on our website. This policy document will be reviewed and publicised in writing, at least annually and, if necessary, more frequently in response to any significant incidents or new developments in national, local and organisational policy, guidance and practice.

APPENDIX 1: Further information about equality and diversity

1. Types of unlawful discrimination

Direct discrimination occurs when someone is treated less favourably than another person because of a protected characteristic (age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex sexual orientation).

Discrimination by association is direct discrimination against someone because they associate with another person who possesses a protected characteristic.

Perception discrimination is direct discrimination against an individual because others think they possess a particular protected characteristic. It applies even if the person does not actually possess that characteristic.

Indirect Discrimination occurs when a condition, provision, policy or practice applies to everyone but particularly disadvantages people who share a protected characteristic and it cannot be shown to be a proportionate means of achieving a legitimate aim.

Discrimination arising from disability occurs when you treat a disabled person unfavourably because of something connected with their disability and cannot justify such treatment. Discrimination arising from disability is different from direct and indirect discrimination.

Harassment occurs when a person is subject to “unwanted conduct related to a relevant protected characteristic, which has the purpose or effect of violating an individual’s dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for that individual”.

Third-party harassment occurs where, during the course of their duties, an employee is harassed by an individual or individuals who are not under the direct control of Emersons Green Primary School and the harassment relates to a protected characteristic.

Victimisation occurs when an individual is subject to a detriment because they have made an allegation of, or given evidence about, the treatment of any individual (including themselves) who has been subject to any of the above. Any individual making allegations of a false, malicious or vexatious nature would not be protected against victimisation and will be subject to disciplinary action.

Example of School Equalities Analysis

Step 1: Get a group together

Bring together a group of people to work through the equality analysis process. Ideally the group should include someone with overall legal responsibility for the setting and someone with day to day responsibility.

Step 2: Gather up your existing information

Collect together the information you already hold that relates to equalities. This can include data from the following (where applicable to your setting):

- Management information system (MIS)
- Local community profile
- Setting population
- Children's attainment/EYFS profile scores
- Attendance and absences
- Exclusions/withdrawals
- Participation in other activities/opportunities provided at the setting
- Prejudice-based bullying log
- Staff profile
- Governor/trustee /management profile

Step 3 Organise your data

You need to analyse your data according to all the protected characteristics that are set out in the Equality Act. It is unlikely that your setting will hold data on all of these characteristics. You are not required to collect any more data for this exercise. Instead, where there are gaps you need to consider whether you need more information. If so, you may choose to collect this data in future.

Step 4 Examine the data

Go through the data you have collected and note down any apparent inequalities between different groups. Do this systematically considering each of the different protected characteristics in turn (including any that you have added). Ask questions such as:

How does boys' development compare with that of girls?

Is attendance at parents' forum meetings comparable for different ethnicities?

Do disabled children participate in additional activities that you organise?

Are certain groups of children over represented in exclusions/withdrawals from setting?

Do disabled adults participate in setting events?

Who are the victims of bullying? Who are the perpetrators?

Have there been any disability, homophobic, transphobic hate incidents? What about other prejudices, e.g. those based on race or religion?

As you ask these questions, make a note of any potential issues regarding equality and also any examples of measures that you are already taking to address inequality. Use the equality audit document at the end of this tool kit.

Step 5: Compile a list of possible actions

Examine in turn each of the inequalities that you noted as you analysed your data (or external sources of data). Consider what these inequalities might indicate in terms of the three arms of the public sector equality duty. When you are considering what steps to take remember that it is quite lawful for settings to target measures that are designed to alleviate disadvantages experienced by, or to meet the particular needs of, children with particular protected characteristics. This is called Positive Action. It needs to be a proportionate way of achieving the relevant aim – for example, providing special support for Traveller children or a project to engage specifically with families who are newly arrived in the country.

If you are not sure of the answer to any of the questions note down what steps you could take to find out more. When you have considered all the inequalities in turn then you will end up with a list of steps for action. Some may be quite straightforward and you can implement these at once. Others will require careful consideration and planning before they can be implemented. You will need to draw up priorities for action.

Step 6 Identify priorities for action

It is unlikely that you can make all the improvements you would like at once; therefore, you need to identify some realistic priorities for action that will have the maximum effect on equality in your setting. These priorities will become your equality objectives. Equality objectives, by law, need to be specific and measurable so it is not enough to simply identify a general priority - you will need to consider what outcome you want to achieve and how you will measure your progress towards this.

Step 7 Publish equality information and objectives

Step 8: Review your progress

The equality information you publish is required by law to be reviewed and updated annually and objectives need to be updated every four years. We recommend that you update your setting information and report on progress towards your objectives at least once a year. Additionally, whenever you are considering introducing a new policy or changing your practice you need to consider how this will impact on equality.

Equality Audits

A Self Evaluation Audit

The Equality Act imposes a duty on organisations in regard to;

- Promoting accessibility
- Valuing cultural diversity
- Promoting participation
- Promoting equality of opportunity
- Promoting inclusive communities
- Reducing disadvantage and exclusion

Completing an Equality Audit is an assessment of where an organisation is in terms of how it delivers and incorporates equality and is a great tool for organisations who have never reviewed or do not regularly review their position in the light of the duty. An Equality Audit could include any aspect of the organisation's policies, procedures or services. The benefits of completing an Equality Audit might include using it as:

- An additional planning tool
- An additional reporting tool
- Increasing staff management, efficiency and effectiveness
- As a quality management tool
- To comply with the law
- Understanding stakeholder attitudes and perceptions about equalities

An audit should include;

Assessment – assessing what you have and where you are in relation to meeting the duty

Acting – responding to the findings and plugging the gaps

Reviewing- assessing changes or adaptations and monitoring year on year

Steps for reviewing Equality and Diversity:

1. Begin by carrying out an organisational health check list and gathering monitoring information. This information will be instrumental in helping you when you carry out equality analysis/ assessments, meet the Equality Duty (Specific Duty - this requires you to;
2. Publish information to show your compliance with the Equality Duty annually,
3. Set and publish equality objectives every 4 years and set your equality objectives.
